HONGKONG, 25TH AUGUST, 1903.

The death last Saturday of Lord SALISBURY was an event unfortunately anticipated for several weeks past. As soon as it was known that the ex-Premier was seriously ill, it was felt that his chances of recovery must be small. Never a man of robust physique, he was yet a tireless worker, who from choice as well as from stress of circumstance devoted himself unceasingly to his work. Frequently during the latter years of his tenure of the Premiership he was compelled by indisposition and sheer over-strain to relinquish for a while his duties. When finally he retired from public life last year, though hope was universally expressed that he would live to enjoy many years of the leisure he had so well earned, it was not with any confidence that his well-wishers looked forward to a prolongation of his life. Born at Hatfield in Hertfordshire on the 3rd February, 1826, ROBERT ARTHUR GOSWELL-OSBORNE, third Marquess of Salisbury, was thus over 73 years of age when he died. He was educated at Eton and at Christ Church, Oxford, and in 1853 was elected a Fellow of All Souls, Oxford, in the same year in which he first entered Parliament as Conservative member for Stamford, a seat which he held for fifteen years. In 1857 he married the wife whose death after many years of happiness was so sad a blow to his later years. In 1866 he was made Secretary for India, while two years after, on his father's death, he succeeded to the Marquessate of SALISBURY. It was not, however, until 1876 that he was able to come to the front. In that year he was appointed special ambassador for Great Britain for the conference at Constantinople, and his resulting succession to Lord DERBY in the Foreign Office and attainment of the post of British plenipotentiary at the Congress of Berlin gave him a name known throughout the world. So it came about that at the death of Lord BEACONSFIELD in 1881 Lord SALISBURY's claims to succeed him as leader of the Conservative party were paramount. For four years he led that party in the Lords, until in June, 1885, he took office after the defeat of the Liberal Government's budget; but in the following November the electorate again gave a majority to Mr. GLADSTONE and the memorable period of the Home Rule Bill came on, leading to the foundation of the Unionist party, which under Lord SALISBURY has gradually developed into what it now is. Lord SALISBURY in the second year of the new Government resumed the position of Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, which he had held in 1870-80 and in 1885, and in the Foreign Office passed what must have been the most arduous hours of his life. From January, 1893, to June, 1895, a Liberal Government, first under Mr. GLADSTONE and then under Lord ROSSBURY, ruled the country. In 1895 Lord SALISBURY commenced his third and last administration; the one in which his statesmanship and his physical strength alike were so hardly tried. In 1900 he was obliged to give up the Foreign Office, retaining the Premiership until July of last year, when exhausted Nature would no longer allow him to task himself any longer.

It has been remarked that the memories of Britons well advanced in middle age cannot travel back to the days when Lord SALISBURY was not a great Parliamentary figure. Yet he was not in his earlier days, it might almost be said that he was not up to the time of his retirement, a popular man. By disposition he was rather a recluse and a student than a leader of the people. For the latter his speeches had little magnetism; they were addressed almost entirely to a cultured audience. His occasional bitterness of language, his indiscretions, did not tend to win him general liking while he was still in the midst of the Parliamentary fray. Yet in his own Cabinet the feeling toward him is said to have been one of strong affection. Since he retired into private life it might almost be said that he has gained that popularity which he made no effort to win while he was before the public eyes. At any rate it is certain that his death will be most sincerely and widely mourned in all sections of society. He leaves behind the memory of a strong and dignified figure, who devoted all his best energies to the service of his country, never going out of his way to court applause, and, if he occasionally spoke too lightly in debate, always thinking earnestly and well. Of his foreign policy, by which his claims to greatness must chiefly be judged, it would be impossible to speak comprehensively without devoting to its consideration more space than we have here available. Unfortunately that policy was seen at its weakest when Far Eastern affairs were concerned, and many are the mistakes of the Salisbury administration which British residents in China have had to lament. There seemed always to be a lack of just appreciation of the facts, a want of any special knowledge of the circumstances, an absence of intelligent guiding—largely due no doubt to the shortcomings of the Government's advisers in China at the time, who, however, it must be remembered, were appointed by that Government presumably as suitable men for their places. Better hopes were inspired during the last year of Lord SALISBURY's rule, and it must not be forgotten that the Anglo-Japanese Convention was the final act of his policy here. In that compact we must see an act of redemption for past mistakes which now it is useless to regret. Whether it will much help to restore the proper balance of affairs in the Far East still remains to be seen, but we may at least be permitted to hope. It was a noteworthy act of statesmanship and a sincere attempt to improve the situation. As we have said, Britain's Far Eastern policy was the weakest feature of Lord SALISBURY's career. That he was in most other respects a great Foreign Minister cannot be denied. It is to his policy as a whole that we must look on the occasion of his death, which in common with his countrymen all over the world was sincerely mourned to-day.

An enjoyable selection of music was played by the band of the 1st Sherwood on the Parade Ground yesterday. The pieces by the drum and life band were also much appreciated.

The visitors to the City Hall Library and Museum for the week ending 22nd August, were 235 non-Chinese and 64 Chinese to the former, and 41 non-Chinese and 1,746 Chinese to the latter institution.

The new Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals commenced operations on Saturday last, some members of the committee visiting the Market. We understand that the visit was very instructive.

Sergeant Powell, one of the members of the orchestra which played at the Volunteer Corps concert on Saturday, is not a professional trombone-player, as might have been inferred from our report, but an amateur.

The British steamer Kueiyang (Capt. G. Hooker), which arrived here yesterday from Chefoo, had to put in at Ballock Harbour on the passage down to escape bad weather. Three other coasting steamers also sheltered there for the same reason.

As a small, Chinese-manned steam vessel flying the French flag was leaving the harbour on Saturday with a cargo of kerosene oil, she ran on a rock in Capetown Pass, and put back looking so badly that the native master deemed it prudent to run her ashore at Kennedytown, where she now lies discharging her cargo.

An Indian soldier in the H. K. S. B. R. A., who recently won a Japan-so wrestler in a bout that took place in the large match in Des Vœux Road, challenged the entire garrison, and has had his challenge accepted by another Indian, in the 33rd Burma Light Infantry. The match will take place on the evening of the 3rd inst. in Whitfield Barracks, Kowloon, and is expected to be a tough one.

Shanghai papers are apt to be eulogistic about a caterer at Kuling. This is from the last paragraph which we have read:—"The milk he supplies is both pure and rich; as the looks of many children and babies—and grown up people too—would testify, and it is cheaper than it can be obtained in Shanghai. He also supplies the community with salt pork and beef, but his home-cured smoked ham and bacon are simply delicious. Without Mr. Duff I hardly know how the community here would get on."

The Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese has now thirty-one students on the roll and five others have intimated their intention of joining the College next session. The session commences on Monday, 14th September. The lecturers are:—Practical Chemistry and Toxicology—Dr. Pearce; Pathology—Dr. Hunter; Anatomy—Dr. MacLean; Gibson; Osteology—Dr. MacLean Gibson and Senior Students; Surgery—Dr. Reanne; Practice of Medicine—Dr. E. Gibson; Medical Jurisprudence—Hon. Dr. Ho Kai, C.M.G.; Physiology—Lieutenant Lamball, R.A.M.C.; Midwifery—Dr. Jordan; Materia Medica—Dr. Marriott.

On the 1st ult., under the presidency of the Tar, the forty-first sitting of the Committee of the Harbour Railway was held at St. Petersburg. The report of the progress of the work of construction was then read, and from it appears that the only work now awaiting completion is the line of railway round the southern end of Lake Baikal, and of that line 36 miles of rails have been laid down, so that the eastern section between Myssoraya and Taikhoi will be thrown open to traffic very soon. So soon as this section is available for traffic, then the journey by steam ferry across Lake Baikal will be reduced to 25 miles.

An enquiry was held by the French Consul at Koke on the 14th inst. into the outbreak of fire on the Tonic. Mr. Franklin was called in to give an opinion as to the nature of chlorate of potash and the result of the investigation was that the fire originated through friction caused by the passage of one of the slings over a portion of the keelson on which some of the chemical had been allowed to collect unobserved owing to the breakage or leakage of one or more of the kegs. Furthermore this friction was in all probability rendered more dangerous owing to it having taken place between the rusty iron hoops with which the kegs were bound and the loose potash which is known to be very susceptible to the action of rust. Lastly, it was found that there is no blame attaching itself to either the captain, officers or any other person, but the unfortunate occurrence was entirely one that no reasonable care or forethought could have averted.

The officers and members of the R.A.O.B. King Edward VII Lodge No. 910 entertained a large number of friends to a most enjoyable picnic, three large lunches leaving Blue Building pier on Sunday at 1.30 p.m. with a party of 310. Proceeding to Capetown all landed and had their photographs taken by Mr. Clark, photographer, of 4, Ice House Street. Sports of all sorts were then indulged in, after which the entire party sat down to a good substantial tea. Everyone agreed that they had never enjoyed themselves so much on an outing before. It must be mentioned that Mr. Tanto kept the children highly amused with his very funny antics. The following was the programme of sports:—Boys' Race, 100 yards, A. Sammy; Girls' Race, 100 yards, May Blake; Single Men's Race, Mr. Lawrence; Married Men's Race, Mr. Ashford; Ladies' Nomination Race, Mrs. Ashford; Ladies' Nomination Race, Mrs. Conolly; Long Jump, F. Long. —Contributed.

The first capital punishment sentence under the 15th inst. in Hawaii was carried into effect on the 14th ult. The condemned man was a Japanese, convicted of murder on the high seas.

The aborigines on the Eschschon border of Shensi are reported to have joined with local bandits to resist the Imperial troops, and Viceroy Sang Fan has applied for help.

An American girl, named Madeline Moyd, took poison during the night of the 18th inst. and was found dead next morning in her room at 52, Kiangso Road, Shanghai.

Deputations of the new anti-Russian Society in Japan, the Taira Doshi Kai, waited on the Ministers for Finance, War, and the Navy on the 12th instant and explained the aims of the association to them.

The Japan Mail says that if Great Britain insists on the opening of Wiju to trade, the Yalu Valley may be saved to Korea; if not, Russia will absorb it. There can surely be little doubt that our contemporary states the case with absolute correctness.

In reply to a letter urging the desirability of oulverting the Yangkingsang at Shanghai, Mr. J. O. P. Bland, Secretary of the Municipal Council, writes adducing arguments that the proposed oulverting is not calculated to be of benefit either to the public health or to the general interests of the community. He also says:—"Looked at from a general administrative standpoint the proposed improvement, while undoubtedly calculated to benefit in a marked degree the interests of owners of property situated in the rear of the French Settlement would not serve as a means of egress or as a feeder to the gutting roads of the Settlement. The proposed Boulevard, as a public thoroughfare, would attract traffic from the Bund and Central District to the French extension area, and to put facts positively, would develop that locality to the detriment of landowners and others in the British Settlement."

A correspondent at Awaji, Japan, sends to the Kobe Chronicle an interesting account of the visit to that island of an immense turtle. The shell from top to bottom measured roughly 3 ft., and including head and tail, the turtle must have been over 4 ft. in length. Its weight was estimated at about 2½ kwan (about 1½ cwt.), and it required the strength of four men to turn it on to its back. The turtle had come ashore for the purpose of laying eggs. On its going back to sea the correspondent got on its back and took a ride, but he says his weight seemed to make no difference whatever, although he turns the scale at over 15 stone. It appears that turtles of similar dimensions come ashore at Awaji about four or five times a year, but they are always allowed to escape on account of the Japanese fishermen's belief that should they be upset in their boat a turtle will come up and bear them safely ashore.

News has been received at Shanghai that on the 15th inst., about noon, a number of stone-laden boats ran against the old bridge of boats at Ningpo owing to the tides losing control in a strong ebb tide. The anchor-chains of five of the boats parted, letting these and others, as reported that about 100 people were drowned, and certainly a large number were drowned, and that four traffic is always heavy and the accident was sudden. An official investigation is proceeding. One of the boats was beached near the scene, but the other four went down until brought up by the lorches opposite the Custom House, fortunately doing no great damage. This calls to memory a similar accident seven or eight years ago, says the Mercury, when about the same number were drowned. The traffic across the river is now all in the hands of the sampan-ums, who are reaping a good harvest.

The Times states that it received two long letters concerning the alleged unfair treatment of Colonial soldiers who served in South Africa and seamen who served in China, treatment which, according to the writers, has caused much discontent in the Commonwealth. The letter regarding the China service is from three men (on behalf of their comrades) who served in the Victorian Naval Contingent in China. They write from Melbourne, under date May 5, and their claim is for the field service allowance of 6d. a day while serving on shore, as authorized by the King's Regulations. According to their statement, the officers and warrant officers of the naval contingent have been paid this field allowance, but it has been withheld without explanation or excuse from the petty officers and seamen. They write:—"Although the amount involved may seem trifling, the non-payment of it has caused a deal of irritation."

The Akronia publishes a Seoul despatch stating that the British Minister at Seoul, who recently warned the Korean Government with regard to the opening of Wiju, has made a further demand in favour of the opening of Yong-ampho or an adjacent town. The Japanese Minister has also warned the Korean Government against the ratification of the Yong-ampho lease. It is understood that the position of the Japanese and British Governments on the Yong-ampho question is very firm. The Japanese Minister has warned the Korean Government that the friendly relations which have ruled between Japan and Korea for hundreds of years past will be jeopardized if the latter fails to cancel the lease. The lease, he says, is tantamount to establishing a Russian Concession at Ryong-an, and Japan will either claim the same privilege or will take other measures to protect Japanese rights in Korea. The British Minister to Seoul, it is further stated, has now demanded the opening of the place and neighbourhood to foreign trade.

A private letter from Port Arthur, dated the 15th inst., and quoted by the N.C. Daily News, fully confirms the report that the Russian women and children in Port Arthur have received official notice to send in their names to the authorities immediately, in the event of their desiring to return to Russia in case of war. There are now 84,000 troops in Port Arthur and Dally, in fighting trim, while the Russian fleet in those waters now amounts to seventy-three vessels of all denominations.

The French naval journal Le Yacht states that in 1904 in the Far East there will be the French cruiser Montcalm, already here, the Gueydon, which is to come out shortly, and the Sully. The Jurien de la Graviere and Desaix were to have come out, but the Gueydon and Sully have been substituted for them. The projected cruiser Chateaufort, sister-ship to the Gueydon, will remain in the Far East, as will also the Redoubtable, Pascal, and Bugard, which will form the reserve, and the gunboats of all sorts and sizes.

Up to June 14th, so a Russian correspondent informs the Globe, coal suitable for use as fuel by the Russian Pacific Squadron had been produced from the Su-shanek coalfields, near Vladivostok, in the South Ussuri territory, to the amount of 10,320 tons. The question of coal-supply would be one of the most difficult problems which the Russians would have to solve in the event of hostilities breaking out between them and the Japanese. Coal will be contraband of war, and Great Britain may be trusted by the Japanese to see that there is no infringement of that rule, so far as she herself is concerned.

A London telegram of the 14th inst. to the Osaka Mainichi says:—"The Times" comments strongly upon the action of Russia in creating a dictatorship instead of evacuating Manchuria. The Standard declares that England and Japan must obtain some concession equivalent to this flagrant violation of Manchurian territorial integrity." A telegram to the same paper from Vienna, says:—"Mr. Karino, Japanese Minister to St. Petersburg, is busy exchanging calls with the Russian Foreign Minister. It is believed that negotiations with regard to the Manchurian affair have been commenced. At one time it was believed in Berlin that Japan and Russia would come to blows, but now it is generally believed that an amicable settlement will be arrived at."

A Japanese paper has the following despatch, dated London, 13th August:—"A telegram from St. Petersburg announces that the Tar has signed and promulgated a Ukase making the Amur territory with Manchuria a special viceroyalty and investing the Viceroy with supreme authority, independent of the Ministers of the Government, over the Pacific Fleet as well as over the Amur in the Amur territory and in Manchuria." The London correspondent of the N.C. Daily News says that the promotion of Admiral Alexeeff to the Far East is considered to be a triumph for the war party in Russia. Admiral Alexeeff is the leader of the faction which advocates holding the Russian garrisons in the Far East of as a permanent and favours heavy expenditure at Port Arthur.

Messrs. John Thornycroft and Co., of Chiswick, on the 3rd April last, received an order from the Japanese Government to build a shallow-draught river gunboat, for service of the Yangtze River, as quickly as possible. The vessel was launched last month, and on 18th ult. she did her speed trials on the Thames, running up to 14 knots an hour, or 1 knot above the contract stipulation. A little over three months were occupied in her construction. This is a shipbuilding record. On the 23rd ult. Sir John Thornycroft, the chairman of the Company, invited the foreign naval attaches in London and other naval experts to meet the members of the Imperial Japanese Naval Commission at present in England, to attend the final trial spin of the new gunboat. The run was from Westminster to Gravesend, and in every respect the vessel proved satisfactory. She has been built on very similar lines to those of H.M.S. Woodcock and Woodlark, which were supplied to the British Government for service on the Chinese rivers in 1898. The length of the vessel is 145 ft. with 24 ft. beam, and 2 ft. draught fully loaded.

The following statement with reference to the visit of the English team to Australia was issued on the 25th ult. by the Marylebone Club:—"The M.C.C. Committee selected Mr. Warner as captain of the English team from the first and have in no way qualified that selection at any time since. The terms offered by the M.C.C. are—for amateurs, all expenses; for professionals, all expenses (including washing bills, which have proved a heavy expense on previous trips), £300, and a bonus if the tour is financially successful. The M.C.C. have announced that they do not wish to make a profit for the club out of the tour. The following have accepted the invitation to 36 members of the team:—Mr. P. F. Warner (captain) (Middlesex); Mr. B. E. Foster (Worcestershire); Mr. B. J. T. Bosanquet (Middlesex); G. H. Hirst (Yorkshire); W. E. Rhodes (Yorkshire); T. Hayward (Surrey); and H. Strudwick (Surrey). Replies have not yet been received from Mr. C. B. Fry (Sussex); E. Arnold (Worcestershire); L. C. Brand (Somerset); Fielder (Kent); A. E. Bell (Sussex); A. A. Lilley (Warwickshire); and J. T. Tyldesley (Lancashire). Those who have been asked but are unable for various reasons to accept are:—The Hon. F. S. Jackson (Yorkshire); Mr. A. C. MacLaren (Lancashire); Mr. H. Maryon (Somerset); Mr. L. C. H. Palsiet (Somerset); Mr. G. L. Jessop (Gloucestershire); and Mr. E. M. Dawson (Surrey).

The Tar has given orders for the establishment of direct telegraphic communication between St. Petersburg and Vladivostok.

It is notified in the London Gazette that Sub-Lieutenant G. Gibbs has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in His Majesty's fleet for services during the operations in North China, 1900.

The Sincowpao states that Viceroy Wol has engaged, through Taotai Tao of Nanking, who is now in Japan, two Japanese officers, who are graduates of the leading military school of the country, to come to China and be respectively principal and assistant principal of the proposed institution for the training of officers in Nanking.

The N.C. Daily News publishes the following under date Tokyo, 19th August:—"The leading Japanese journals vehemently denounce the manner of the Russian acquisition of land at Yong-ampho as a plain violation of Korea's sovereignty. Korea's weak ex post facto convenience at this destroys all security for the preservation of Japan's legitimate interests. The journals urge the adoption of resolute measures to restore the balance, and insist that Japan's uniformly tolerant attitude toward Korea creates opportunities of which Russia takes unscrupulous advantage. It is understood that the Japanese Government is protesting strongly against the ratification of the lease to Russia of the land at Yong-ampho, reserving the right to take suitable measures in the event of her protest being disregarded."

THE POLLARD COMPANY.

The Pollard Comedy Company left for Shanghai yesterday by the French mail steamer Bahia. The management are pleased with the results of the season here, and purpose paying the Colony another professional visit about the beginning of October.

HEALTH OF HONGKONG.

The Sanitary Board returns show that during the two days ended at noon yesterday one case of plague (fatal) occurred; the victim being a Chinese from 65, Berkeley Street. For the whole week ended on Saturday four cases of plague were reported, one European case of enteric fever, one Chinese case of puerperal fever and one of small-pox.

NAVAL BOAT RACE AT CHEFOO.

ITALIAN BLUEJACKETS BEAT AMERICANS. The Italian cruiser Lombardia, which is going home to-morrow, has a boat's crew who have won many laurels in the two years the ship has passed on the Far East station. Besides many successful races on a small scale with the other vessels of the Italian squadron, an exciting race was won against a boat's crew of the U.S. gunboat Eleana at Hankow on 25th June last for a bet of $140 a-side.

When the Lombardia arrived at Chefoo, where there were 23 men-of-war, amongst them twelve belonging to the United States squadron, the fame of her boat's crew excited great interest, especially as the Oregon also had an excellent crew which had beaten all the others of the squadron. In a short time it was arranged that the two crews should row a race of over two nautical miles. The Americans commenced by betting $1,630, which was promptly covered on the other side, and the sum was gradually increased until the bet was for $5,200 a-side. The race was rowed on 21st July last in presence of the Italian Admiral, and after a hard struggle, the boats keeping together almost the whole time, the crew of the Lombardia won by two lengths. After the race the two boats passed under the Italian flag, and were enthusiastically cheered by the Italian blue-jackets.

"Alva the Great," who recently charmed audiences in the Theatre Royal by his ventriloquial entertainments, card tricks, and expositions of thought-reading, has returned to the Colony from Canton, where he was robbed of almost everything he possessed—certainly everything of value. He has been visiting the Chinese authorities for two months, a claim for compensation, and has lost. When he went to Canton, "Alva" through the agency of an American Consul there, Mr. McVade, was promised a guard of eleven "braves" for each performance. That guard was never furnished, and after the robbery took place, "Alva" proceeded against the mandarin who had promised to supply the braves for failing to carry out his word. It looked as though his claim was a sound one, but the mandarin defeated him on the ground that he had not agreed to provide a guard for two o'clock in the morning—the hour at which the robbery was supposed to have been committed. There were four foreigners, including "Alva," sleeping in the room at the time, but they knew nothing of the robbery until they woke up next morning, when the place was found to be stripped of almost all its contents; it is supposed that the thieves drugged or chloroformed their victims, who under ordinary circumstances must have heard the noise attendant upon the breaking-open of heavy boxes, etc. Be that as it may, "Alva" and his friends were "cleaned out," as he puts it, and the thieves got clear away. In order to help him on his way, some Hongkong gentlemen are organising a concert for his benefit—something in the way of a variety entertainment. Good local talent is available, and with contributions to the programme by the beneficiary himself, a first-rate entertainment should be the result.

FEW MEN CAN BE SURE that their old age will be free from the cares of poverty. But most men can free themselves from such cares by investing in an Instalment Endowment of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, which will provide an absolutely certain and permanent income of from $200 to $20,000 a Year for their mature years, without sinking much capital to secure the income.

And moreover, in case of premature death, the income commences at once to the family.

LATE TELEGRAMS.

[VIA JAPAN AND SHANGHAI.]

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

London, 19th August.
The Congress of Chambers of Commerce at Montreal has passed a resolution that the Colonies should contribute to the cost of Imperial Defence, with the reservation that Canada should adopt her own method of carrying this out.—N.C.D.N.

THE FISCAL QUESTION.

London, 19th August.
Mr. Arnold-Forster, Secretary to the Admiralty, speaking at Belfast, said that, while he believes in Free Trade, he has been studying the question intently since Mr. Chamberlain raised the matter, and is now convinced that a very great alteration of our present system is needed.—N.C.D.N.

THE RUSSIAN FLEET.

Berlin, 17th August.
The movement of the Russian ships in the Black Sea, north of the Bosphorus, which is reported to be caused by the desire to obtain some economical concessions from Turkey, is considered all over Europe an attempt to divert the attention of the other Maritime Powers at the moment from East Asia. The strange thing about it is that the Russian Press at the same time praises in very high terms the extraordinary energy of Admiral Alexieff, who, they claim, is resolved even to assume the offensive, if it is necessary to remain master of the Amur territory or the Kwantung Peninsula.—O. Lloyd.

AUSTRIA AND THE PAPACY.

Berlin, 17th August.
The Austro-Hungarian Government admits in a semi-official way that it has protested against the appointment of Cardinal Rampolla to be Papal Secretary of State.—O. Lloyd.

THE BALKAN TROUBLES.

London, 17th August.
The situation in Macedonia is still very serious. The supporters at Sofia of the Macedonians are urging the Bulgarian Government to intervene. Mr. Zolcheff, the President of the Macedonian Committee, who was recently arrested, has escaped from Bulgaria.
The importation of arms and ammunition into Macedonia continues. Russia has informed Bulgaria that it would be a dangerous error for her to regard Russia's attitude at Constantinople as an encouragement to the revolution, and has emphasised the necessity of Bulgaria's vigorously counteracting the activity of the revolutionists.

London, 18th August.
The Bulgarian Premier has assured the diplomats that the memorandum as to Turkish responsibility was not intended in the slightest to provoke a rising in the country.—N.C.D.N.

[VIA CEYLON.]

SOMALILAND HONOURS.

London, 7th August.
The following honours are gazetted for services in Somaliland:—Brigadier-General Manning, Companion of the Bath; Captain Wilfred Lionel Foster, Companion of the Distinguished Service Order; and Captains W.
G. Walker and G. M. Rolland, the Victoria Cross, for assisting Captain Bruce Goigh in the action of the 22nd April.

AGREEMENT WITH THE MORGAN COMBINE.

London, 7th August.
The agreement between the British Government and the Morgan Combination runs for twenty years, and secures the British companies in the Combination remaining really British, their ships to have essentially British crews, fly the British flag, and be held at the disposal of the Admiralty on prescribed terms. At least half the fresh tonnage which the Combination builds or acquires is to be for the British companies. In return the British Government treats the latter on an equality with the other British companies in reference to naval and postal services, except as regards the vessels constructed at the Government's instance, like the new Cunarders.

INDIA AND THE SOUTH AFRICAN TROOPS.

London, 7th August.
Mr. Buchanan has given notice of a motion that it is unjust to charge India with any portion of the troops in South Africa, and the Home Government's imposition of such a similar burden prevents administrative improvements and the remission of taxation, and weakens the financial stability of the Indian Government.

LORD NORTHCOOTE AND AUSTRALIA.

London, 8th August.
The Standard after dwelling upon the special fitness of Lord Northcoote and reviewing recent and present difficulties of the Federal Administration, concludes by saying: "Now that the situation of the new Capital is chosen, pleasing everybody, and an unexceptionable selection has been made for the fulfilment of the functions of state, we are sanguine that federation will enter a more propitious phase of its history."

OFFICIAL APPOINTMENT.

London, 8th August.
Mr. Mackenzie Dalzell Chalmers succeeds Sir Kenneth Edward Dwyer as Permanent Under-Secretary of the Home Department in September.

COUNTY CRICKET.

London, 8th August.
Kent beat Worcestershire by 196 runs.
Yorkshire beat Leicestershire by ten wickets.
Nottingham beat Somerset by an innings and two runs.
The match between Somerset and Sussex was drawn. Lancashire beat Derbyshire by nine wickets.

A scientific investigation of muscular fatigue has been begun by M. A. M. Bloch. From questions sent to persons of many occupations, he finds that it is not the most used muscles that are most subject to fatigue, but those that are kept under tension although doing no work. The back, loins, and neck need more exercise to strengthen them, the arms and legs less. The baker becomes first tired in the legs; the wood-sawyer, in the calves of the leg, or the loins; the road-digger, in the legs; the blacksmith, in the back and loins; the young soldier, in the back of the neck; the horseman, in the thigh; the artilleryman, in the neck and loins; the immature violinist in the neck; the practiced violinist, in the left hand; the expert fencer, in the right shoulder the carman, in the calves and instep.

By the aid of finely divided nickel, and other metals, petroleum has been obtained from acetylene and hydrogen by Sabatier and Sendrens. This has suggested a simple explanation of natural petroleum. Instead of assigning to it an organic origin, it is only necessary to assume the existence in the earth of alkaline-carthy metals and their carbides, which on contact with water would yield hydrogen and acetylene. Meeting nickel, cobalt, and iron, the two gases would give rise to reactions that would furnish the various kinds of petroleum.

The aniline and soda works at Baden take rank as the largest chemical factory in the world. There are 421 factory buildings and 649 dwellings, and the employees include 148 scientific chemists, 75 technical engineers, 305 clerks, and more than 6,000 workmen. Steam is furnished by 102 boilers for 253 engines of 12,180 horse-power. The factory has 27 miles of railway track, with 387 cars; also a freight vessel.

Fish have been resuscitated after freezing at 12 deg. or 14 deg. F. below freezing point, but do not survive zero temperature.

One of the marvels of modern metallurgy is the influence upon steel of vanadium in so small a proportion as three to five parts per thousand. The resistance of the steel to fracture is doubled, its hardness is increased to an extraordinary degree, and it is given the peculiar and useful property of acquiring its maximum hardness by annealing at 700 deg. to 800 deg. C. instead of by tempering. When a working tool of vanadium steel becomes heated, its cutting power increases instead of being lost. A suggested explanation of the effect of the vanadium is its extreme avidity for oxygen, which causes it to reduce every trace of the iron oxide that greatly lessens the strength of even the best prepared steels.

Natural protoplasm, the original cell substance, is thought by Prof. A. L. Herrera, a Mexican biologist, to be composed of calcium metaphosphate "impregnated with various substances absorbed or secreted under special osmotic and electrolytic conditions. He has prepared an artificial protoplasm, consisting solely of calcium metaphosphate, and has obtained micro-photographs of this in actual movement in salt solution: The substance, containing air cavities but homogeneous in structure, is strikingly like living cells in behaviour, changing shape, swelling, dividing, and forming a plasmodium on treatment with salt solution.

The new boat of M. Ture of the French navy, designed to pass through the waves without roll or pitch, is described as a combination of submarine and high platform. The submarine is 30 feet long, 75 feet wide and 12 feet deep, and is to contain boilers, engines, and steering gear, which will be submerged to a depth of 12 feet. From the submarine will rise vertically two masts, 65 feet apart, each 200 feet long and 10 feet wide.

The house fly, with a total life of about ten days, develops in these periods: Egg from laying to hatching, one-third of a day; hatching of larva to first molt, one day; second molt to pupation, three days; pupation to issuing of the adult, five days.

The new material of Jorgen G. Maardt, an engineer of Copenhagen, is not only effective as a heat and electric insulator but has the advantage of being incombustible and insoluble in hot or cold water or steam. The material is made from cork dust or cork waste, peat dust, or small peat, or other like substance, which is saturated with water-glass.
The resulting mass is poured into moulds, and is afterward fused in a solution of some chloride, like chloride of calcium or chloride of magnesium. This treatment gives hardness.

In French experiments silkworms have been made to produce cocoons of almost any desired colour. As the ordinary white, yellow, or green was known to vary with the food, this was coloured artificially, and worms eating dyed privet leaves yielded cocoons of corresponding red, blue, or other colour. Plants have been similarly coloured by food, some blue French beans exhibited in London a few years ago seeming to have resulted from some chemical peculiarity of the soil.

Aniline colours, similar to those from coal tar, are now made in a Russian factory from petroleum. They are free from a troublesome constituent of the coal-tar dyes, and do not turn green with age. The factory is producing annually about 50,000 pounds of these dye-stuffs, which are mostly used for colouring cotton goods.

While X-rays have usually shown no positive effect upon the germination of seeds and other plant phenomena, H. Seck claims to have shown that they have a real influence upon circulating protoplasm. The movement quickened in the isolated hairs of some plants, and leaves about a foot from the tube began to close after exposure for twenty minutes to the rays. The youngest leaves closed first.
